Tax Collections Surpassing Estimate by $127.6M

TOPEKA – Governor Laura Kelly announced Kansas July tax receipts. In total, Kansas saw its total tax receipts for July exceed the estimate by $127.6 million with $586.2 million collected.

“Due to my administration’s record-setting economic development successes over the last three and a half years, July marks the 24th month in a row that Kansas tax receipts have surpassed expectations,” said Governor Kelly. “That represents more money our state can use to continue fully funding our schools, improving our roads, investing in law enforcement, and expanding health care.”

Individual income tax receipts were $300.5 million, or 15.6%, over the $260.0 million estimate. Corporate income tax collections were $36.6 million, or 66.4%, over the estimate. Higher-than-expected corporate tax receipts reflect continued optimism that corporate profits will remain stable in the new fiscal year.

A comparison of July’s receipts to those of July of 2021 is not meaningful because a statutory change during the 2022 Legislative Session had the effect of deferring the collection of certain sales and use tax receipts from July to August beginning this fiscal year.

Retail sales tax collections were $174.2 million, or 39.4%, over the estimate. Compensating use tax collections were $21.0 million, or 65.7%, over the estimate with $53.0 million collected. Actual receipts for the two tax types were less than July 2021 due to a change in the timing for remittances by large retailers resulting from the enactment of 2022 H.B. 2136.

Unified Government joins National Effort to Reform Fines and Fees

The Unified Government of Wyandotte County and Kansas City, Kansas is excited to announce participation in the second cohort of the Cities and Counties for Fine & Fee Justice (CCFFJ) program, a network of local government leaders dedicated to advancing fine and fee reform to address the disproportionate impacts they have across our community.

Led by the Fines and Fees Justice Center and the City of San Francisco’s Financial Justice Project, this national effort to reform local fines and fees will help address important equity issues facing our own residents. As one of the six jurisdictions selected, the Unified Government will receive customized technical and strategic assistance, which includes access to policy, research, communications, and data as tools to evaluate fine and fee reform.

“Burdensome court-related fines and fees have the ability to exacerbate inequity and unnecessarily results in insurmountable debt, poverty and hopelessness,” said Mayor Tyrone A. Garner. “With the support of PolicyLink, our goal is to diminish the impact of burdensome fines and fees for residents. Fines and fees should not be used as a budgeted revenue stream, but rather as an appropriate means of accountability for violators of minor infractions and should not cause an undue negative effect on the poor, working families, and people that have historically disproportionately and negatively been impacted by over policing.”

With this program, the Unified Government will be able to explore fine and fee reforms that include eliminating criminal justice fees (e.g. surcharges, penalties, and interest) which can “drive up debt and make even a traffic ticket unaffordable for people living paycheck-to-paycheck;” the high costs of incarceration (e.g. fees for phone calls, medical care, and commissary purchases) which are paid by people who are incarcerated and their families; and, right-sizing fines that exceed people’s ability to pay (e.g. ticketing, towing, and booting). The Unified Government is joining a cohort of six other communities,

“It is important for us to put everything on the table during this period of assessment,” said Interim County Administrator Cheryl Harrison-Lee. “Looking at the unintentional consequences of how we operate is an important part of reimagining the Unified Government for the next 25 years. We’re excited to be part of this cohort of communities and look forward to what is recommended for policy and procedural changes moving forward.”

Don’t leave children in cars

Temperatures are forecasted to climb back into the 90s across Kansas again this week, and the Kansas Department of Transportation, emergency responders and health advisors remind parents and caregivers to never leave a child in a car.

Heat risks for children can occur even when outside temperatures are much lower. On a sunny day, the inside of a car can heat up 40 degrees in one hour, with 80% of that heat rise happening in the first 30 minutes. If the outside temperature is 80, a vehicle can heat to 99 degrees in 10 minutes, and to 114 degrees in 30 minutes.

Even a brief entrapment in a vehicle can expose a child to heat stroke once their body temperature reaches 104. A child may not be able to remove themselves from a car seat or escape a locked car.

The Kansas Highway Patrol, like all other emergency responders, are looking out for the safety of Kansas motorists and occupants. “Do not forget or leave children in a vehicle, even with windows cracked, for any amount of time,” said Colonel Herman T. Jones, Superintendent of the Kansas Highway Patrol.

Children are more at risk for heatstroke complications and death because their bodies absorb heat more quickly and have trouble cooling off. A child’s body temperature climbs three to five times faster than an adult. Sweating won’t cool down an infant or young child in the same way it does an adult.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reports more than half (53%) of all vehicle-related heatstroke deaths in children are caused by a child accidentally being left in the car, and 26% are from a child getting into a hot car unsupervised.

If you are a bystander and see a child in a hot vehicle:

- Make sure the child is okay and responsive. If not, call 911 immediately.
- If the child appears to be okay, attempt to locate the parents. If someone is with you, one person should actively search for the parent while the other waits at the car.
