KCKCC to Recognize 2022 Hall of Fame Honorees

The Kansas City Kansas Community College Foundation has announced those it will be recognizing during the 2023 Hall of Fame Awards and Scholarship Event.

This year's honorees include – Timothy L. Dupree, Sr.; Nelda Godfrey; Ramón Murguía; Curtis V. Smith; Gerald Ulrich and Henry Wash. They will be honored during the Hall of Fame event, which is 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. April 21 at the Dr. Thomas R. Burke Technical Education Center. Proceeds raised through sponsorships and ticket sales benefit the Student Scholarship Program at KCKCC. Individual tickets are $75 and tables can be purchased for $450. Sponsorship and registration details can be found on the foundation's website.

The Hall of Fame started in 1996 to recognize individuals, organizations and corporate supporters in the community who have made notable contributions to education. Hall of Fame inductees are selected based on a demonstrated commitment to education, their effort to improve the quality of life in the community through a commitment to education, increasing educational opportunities for others and supporting significant changes that have improved the quality of education.

The 2023 honorees are:

Timothy L. Dupree Sr. A native of Kansas City, Kan., Dupree currently serves as District Court Judge in the 29th Judicial District of Wyandotte County. He is also Senior Pastor of Faith Temple Church in Topeka, Kan. Dupree is a graduate of Wyandotte High School, Kansas City Kansas Community College and the University of Kansas, where he earned a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in women's studies. In 2003, he received a law degree with a certificate in family law from the Washburn University School of Law.

In a nomination letter, Dupree is described as having an "enthusiasm for learning and a desire to help anyone he can." Committed to education, Dupree knows first-hand how getting an education can change the course of one's life as he is the first in his family to graduate from college and become one of a small group of minority District Court judges in the history of Wyandotte County. Dupree often tells people that KCKCC prepared him for law school even more than a four-year university, and he is known for encouraging students to attend community college. In fact, his youngest daughter is now a second year Presidential Honor Roll student at KCKCC. Dupree is a natural role model to youth within his church community and consistently places importance on spiritual and civic education whether he is giving back in the community, in the courtroom or in the church.

Nelda Godfrey. Godfrey has had a prestigious career spanning more than 38 years as an educator, author and researcher in Kansas City. She is currently professor and associate dean for innovative partnerships and practice at the University of Kansas School of Nursing. Godfrey received a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University of Missouri-Columbia and a master's degree in nursing and credential as a Clinical Nurse Specialist from the University of Kansas Medical Center. She then earned a PhD in nursing, also from MU.

She often writes about new care delivery models that can be influenced by a stronger emphasis on the nurse within, and her work with the International Society of Professional Identity in Nursing is "transforming the way nurses, health care professions and society" understand what it means to think, act and feel like a nurse. Godfrey was also instrumental in promoting a collaboration between KU and the KCKCC Nursing Department, creating a curricular model that allows KCKCC ADN students to earn both their ADN and BSN degrees at the same time. In doing so, not only are there additional educational opportunities for those students looking to enter the nursing career field, but they can complete their education faster and with less debt. She has also dedicated countless hours to providing professional development to KCKCC's registered nursing and practical nursing faculty to share her research on developing students' form of identity.

Ramón Murguía. Murguía is a native of Kansas City, Kan. and is currently the owner of Murguía Law Firm. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and accounting from the KU and earned his law degree from Harvard Law School. He has spent his life working to improve the life of others, particularly in the Latino community, as well as for low-income families.

His commitment to education has led to his work in improving quality education attainment at the local, regional and national level. As part of that commitment, he serves as board chair for the Greater Kansas City Hispanic Development Fund, which provides hundreds of scholarships to local Latino students who are attending college. In a nomination letter, he is described as having an "unwavering commitment to ensuring young adults, especially those in the Latino community, have every educational opportunity to achieve their fullest potential." In addition, HDF provides programming in both English and Spanish about college access to thousands of students throughout the Kansas City area. Other boards he serves on include the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and Unidos IS, which help to address the gaps in education for low-income families and communities of color. Locally, he has been a champion for El Centro's Academy for Children, the organization's early childhood education preschool. His support helped the preschool move to a dual language program in 2014.

Curtis V. Smith. Smith was a long-time professor of biological sciences at KCKCC, teaching at the college from 1992-2020. He was the lead microbiology lab instructor for many years and was instrumental in developing many of the experiments used in that course as well as creating a microbiology lab manual. Passionate about nutrition, he was instrumental in starting the KCKCC Community Garden while at KCKCC and also held a variety of sessions on healthy cooking. In addition to science, Smith was also a full-time professor in the Division of Social and Behavioral Science, where he taught U.S. History for 20 years.

He received a bachelor of science in biology and a master of science in microbiology, both from the University of Missouri-Kansas

Governor Kelly Signs Bipartisan Bills Honoring Kansas History

TOPEKA – Governor Laura Kelly today signed Senate Bill 39, a bipartisan bill directing the Capitol Preservation Committee to develop and approve plans for a mural honoring the 1st Kansas Colored Voluntary Infantry Regiment. This bill allows a project started more than 20 years ago to finally be completed.

“It is well past time we pay tribute to the contributions the 1st Kansas Colored Voluntary Infantry Regiment made to Kansas and to our country as they fought valiantly to defeat slavery,” Governor Laura Kelly said. “Once this mural is complete, all who enter the Statehouse will be reminded of the sacrifice and service these soldiers made for our nation’s progress.”

The 1st Kansas Colored Voluntary Infantry Regiment holds a distinctive significance as Kansas was the first northern state to recruit, train, and send Black soldiers into combat during the Civil War.

“This mural is about honoring those who gave their last full measure of devotion and ultimate sacrifice to serving the United States of America,” Representative Valdenia Winn, Kansas House District 34 and member of the Capitol Preservation Committee, said. “A mural honoring this Regiment will not only honor the sacrifices of the 1st Kansas Colored Infantry but will also further recognize Kansas’ role in holding the Union together. This story and its inspiration are more relevant than ever today – and long overdue.”

“After more than 20 years of work in various committees, the Capitol Preservation Committee can, in earnest, begin fundraising and the process of finding the artist with the best vision to honor this important military regiment in the Statehouse,” Senator Elaine Bowers, Kansas Senate District 36 and member of the Capitol Preservation Committee, said.

Governor Kelly also signed Senate Bill 11, a bipartisan bill reauthorizing the placement of a life-size version of the “Ad Astra” sculpture on Kansas Capitol grounds.

“The Ad Astra project became a Capitol Preservation Committee priority project over the last two years. Finally, the 8’2” Ad Astra sculpture will find its home on the pedestal, which has been empty for way too long,” Senator Bowers said.

“‘To the stars through difficulties,’ our state motto, embodies everything we are as Kansans. We have grit, drive, an eye for a better future, for freedom, and for exploration. The creation of this statue will remind us of our core values and keep them centered in everything we do here,” Representative Winn said.

“I am delighted with the passage of Senate Bill 11, which enables fundraising to begin so that the Ad Astra Plaza project can be completed,” Former State Senator Randall Hardy said. “Work on the Ad Astra Plaza on the Statehouse grounds was left unfinished after the Ad Astra Statue was placed on the Statehouse dome in 2002. This bill sets us on the path to seeing this project become a reality.”

“As one of the legislators who authored the creation of the Capitol Preservation Committee, I am pleased to see the bipartisan support for both the mural honoring the First Colored Infantry Division and the reauthoriza-

He also received an interdisciplinary doctorate in urban leadership and policy studies in education from UMKC. One of his greatest impacts on the community is his involvement with the Wyandotte County Ethnic Festival, which he helped start more than 15 years ago. The festival celebrates the rich ethnic diversity in Wyandotte County and provides an educational experience for all ages. More recently, he was integral in the creation of the KCKCC and Wyandotte County Historical Mural project, which can be seen on the KCKCC Main Campus. Even after his retirement, Smith continues to be involved at the college, serving on the Campus Art Committee and helping to select art to display at KCKCC.

Gerald Ulrich. Ulrich is a lifelong educator who was known during his time in the classroom for his special teaching style that made the complexity of math under-tion of placing the Ad Astra statue on the Statehouse grounds,” Former Senate Minority Leader Anthony Hensley said. “Moving these projects forward preserves standable to students who struggled with the subject. Prior to his retirement, he was a math instructor and department chair at KCKCC for more than 30 years, touching the lives of thousands of students. Prior to that he was also a teacher in the Kansas City, Kansas School District. He is described as having a “love for education” and is well known and respected throughout the community. As a college professor, he helped many college students as well as those still in high school who needed extra help in understanding math. In the community he has used his talents by serving as volunteer treasurer for several local elected officials.

Henry Wash. Wash is the president, chief executive officer and founder of High Aspirations, an organization that was started in 2003 to “raise African American males’ aspirations by initiating innovative ways to improve the quality of their lives spiritually, emotionally, socially and academically.” He has more than 21 years of experience in designing, implementing and evaluating programming for at-risk populations and gathered

He has received associate degrees in applied science and arts, a bachelor’s degree in sociology, a minor in Black studies and a masters of public administration in urban affairs.

His work with High Aspirations and as a mentor can be traced back to his relationships with Henry Bloch and Bill Dunn Sr., who inspired him to start the organization. Since that time, almost 150 young African American males, many from Wyandotte County, have been a part of the mentoring program at High Aspirations. Wash continues to hold the youth he works with to high standards, lifting them up and mentoring them to become responsible individuals.
