Watch Out for Fraud with Self-Directed IRAs

Topeka, Kan. – An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) can be a great way to save for your retirement. Traditional IRAs are held for investors by custodians: banks, trust companies, or others regulated entities. Self-directed IRAs (SDIRA) are also held by custodians; however, they are only responsible for its administration, and have no obligation to review the investments made through the account. SDIRAs may also allow investment of retirement funds in “alternative assets,” such as precious metals, real estate, or cryptocurrency. These unique attributes of SDIRAs may be attractive to some investors, but they come with a heightened risk of fraud.

“While the decision to invest with a self-directed IRA is up to the individual investor, there are unique scams associated with these accounts,” Kansas Insurance Commissioner Vicki Schmidt said. “As with all investments, it is important to understand the risk of fraud so you can make informed decisions about your money.”

Commissioner Schmidt encourages Kansans to watch out for these fraud risks associated with SDIRAs:

* Fake Custodians and Misrepresentations of Responsibilities – Watch out for fraudsters using a fake SDIRA custodian in an attempt to steal your money. Before making a deposit with a SDIRA custodian, make sure they are legitimate. The IRS keeps a list of nonbank custodians on their website. While the list does not include all custodians, if they do not appear on the list, consider conducting additional research before opening an account. Fraudsters may also make false claims that SDIRA custodians have validated their investment.

Since there is no such responsibility for SDIRAs, fraudsters may still attempt to sell you fraudulent investments through legitimate custodians. Be extra cautious of unsolicited investment offers that promote the use of a SDIRA. Contact the Office of the Kansas Securities Commissioner, a division of the Kansas Insurance Department, to verify if the offered investment is properly registered.

* Exploitation of Tax-Deferred Account Characteristics – As with other IRAs, SDIRAs are tax-deferred accounts that carry a financial penalty for prematurely withdrawing money before reaching a certain age. This penalty may lull an investor into passive management of their account, and combined with the lack of custodial oversight, could result in the fraud going unnoticed. If you invest using an SDIRA, verify the information in your account statements often and be mindful of the illiquidity and tax characteristics of any alternative investments.

For more information about the risks of fraud and self-directed IRAs, visit www.nasaa.org and www.finra.org. If you suspect you have been a victim of securities fraud, please contact the Office of the Kansas Securities Commissioner at 785-296-3071 or file a complaint online at <https://insurance.ks.gov/department/ksc/complaint/ksc-complaint.php>. All investments carry risk, so visit SmartInvestKS.com to learn more about different types of investments and how to avoid fraud.

The Office of the Kansas Securities Commissioner, a division of the Kansas Insurance Department, regulates the offer and sale of securities in Kansas--the birthplace of “Blue Sky Laws.” In 2017, the Office was merged with the Kansas Insurance Department.

Successful Black Farmer had Very Humble Beginning

By Murrel Bland

He came to Wyandotte County in 1879 with 90 cents.

In the next 45 years, Junius George Groves developed one of the country's most successful potato farms in Edwardsville, Kan. He also became one of the successful and wealthiest Black businessmen in the United States.

The story of Groves was the subject of a presentation at a quarterly meeting of the Wyandotte County Historical Society Sunday, March 26 at the George Meyn Community Center in Wyandotte County Park, Bonner Springs. Brad Harrington, whose family owns the funeral home in Bonner Springs, told of the many accomplishments of Groves who was known as “The Potato King of the World.”

Groves was born in 1859 into slavery in Green County, Ky. He came to Wyandotte County as part of the Exoduster Movement in which ex-slaves left the South. He began his agricultural efforts as a sharecropper. In a few years, Groves and his wife, Matilda Stewart Groves, began buying land, culminating in about 500 acres in what is now Edwardsville. He grew more bushels of potatoes per acre than anyone else.

Groves co-founded and was President of the State Negro Business League; was Secretary of Kaw Valley Potato Association; and was Vice President of the Sunflower State Agricultural Association.

Although Groves received various recognition for his accomplishments, Harrington suggested that two organizations, the City of Edwardsville and the National Agricultural Center and Hall of Fame, need to honor Groves. A park in Edwardsville, which was part of Groves' farm, could be named in his behalf.

Groves died of a heart attack in 1925 in Edwardsville.

Information for the story was taken from the information in the Kansas Room of the Kansas City, Kansas, Public Library.

Murrel Bland is the former editor of The Wyandotte West and The Piper Press.
