Social Security Expands Compassionate Allowances List Expedites Decisions for People with Severe Disabilities

Martin O'Malley, Commissioner of Social Security, today announced nine new Compassionate Allowances (CAL) conditions and revisions to two existing CAL conditions: Bainbridge-Ropers Syndrome, Costello Syndrome, Adult Heart Transplant Wait List – Status Levels 1-4, Child Heart Transplant Wait List – Status Levels 1A/1B

(revised existing condition), Histiocytic Malignancies, Histiocytosis Syndromes (revised existing condition), Neonatal Marfan Syndrome, PACS1 Syndrome, Plasmablastic Lymphoma, Renal Medullary Carcinoma, and Snijders Blok-Campeau Syndrome. The Compassionate Allowances program quickly identifies claims where the applicant's medical condition or disease clearly meets Social Security's statutory standard for disability. Due to the severe nature of many of these conditions, these claims are often allowed based on medical confirmation of the diagnosis alone. To date, more than one million people with severe disabilities have been approved through this accelerated, policy-compliant disability process, which now includes a total of 287 conditions. "I am steadfastly committed to reducing the amount of time people wait to receive a decision on their disability claim, and we are making progress," said Commissioner O'Malley. "Compassionate Allowances helps in this effort by accelerating the disability application process for people who are likely to get approved for benefits due to the severity of their medical condition." When a person applies for disability benefits, Social Security must obtain medical records in order to make an accurate determination. The agency incorporates leading technology to identify potential CAL conditions and make quick decisions. Social Security's Health IT brings the speed and efficiency of electronic medical records to the disability determination process. Through electronic records transmission, Social Security is able to quickly obtain a claimant's medical information, review it, and make a determination faster than ever before.

Kelly, Kobach Issue Bipartisan Letter Opposing Nebraska's Proposed Platte-Republican Interbasin Transfer

TOPEKA— Today, Governor Laura Kelly and Attorney General Kris Kobach issued a bipartisan letter to Nebraska Governor Jim Pillen expressing their objection to Nebraska's proposed Platte-Republican interbasin transfer.

"The proposed Platte-Republican interbasin transfer would severely damage Kansas' finest fishing and boating destinations," Governor Laura Kelly said. "Places like Milford Lake are enjoyed by thousands of Kansas and Nebraskans alike. We cannot stand idly by while our state's critical natural assets are put at risk."

The transfer, currently under consideration by Nebraska's Department of Natural Resources, would allow invasive carp species to enter Harlan County Reservoir in Nebraska and Lovewell and Milford Reservoirs in Kansas. These fish have been known to cause devastating economic and ecological consequences to river basins around the country, harming native species, sport fishing, commercial fishing, and recreational boating wherever they are introduced.

"As an avid fisherman, I'm one of thousands of Kansans who enjoy our first-class lakes and waterways for fishing," Attorney General Kris Kobach said. "I will use every tool available to keep these invasive species from harming Kansas waters."

Kansas previously shared these concerns when Nebraska first considered an identical transfer application in 2018. Since then, the threat of invasive species, such as silver head carp, entering the Republican River Basin has only grown more dire. Recent data shows that invasive populations have expanded to just yards from the site of the proposed interbasin transfer.

"These species can decimate local fish populations and pose safety hazards for recreationists in impacted rivers and lakes," said Acting Secretary Christopher Kennedy, Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks. "Efforts in other states to eliminate these carp populations once they've established are costly and largely unsuccessful, making prevention critical wherever possible."

Along with the letter issued to Governor Pillen today, Kansas provided both written and oral testimony to the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources during the public hearing for the transfer on May 23, 2024.
