Governor Directs Flags be Flown at Half-Staff in Honor of Rep. Marvin Robinson

TOPEKA – In accordance with Executive Order #20-30, Governor Laura Kelly has directed flags be lowered to half-staff on all state buildings, grounds, and facilities effective immediately until sundown on the day of interment in honor of Kansas State Representative Marvin Robinson. He has represented Kansas House District 35 since 2023.

“Representative Robinson showed a commitment to public service throughout his time in the Navy and the Kansas Legislature,” Governor Laura Kelly said. “My thoughts go out to his friends and family during this difficult time.”

This flag order will be updated when the date of interment is determined.

Labor Day Warning: Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over

Summer is ending, but there’s no end in sight to law enforcement’s crackdown on impaired driving. This Labor Day holiday, the Kansas Department of Transportation, the Drive To Zero Coalition and law enforcement urge drivers to think twice before driving drunk or high.

Enforcement for the “If You Feel Different, You Drive Different. Drive High, Get a DUI” safety campaign will run Aug. 14 through Sept. 2. According to KDOT, 67 people died in 2023 Kansas crashes involving an alcohol impaired driver. While this was a decrease from 95 deaths in 2022, persons sustaining serious injuries in alcohol-related crashes increased last year.

“Alcohol is the main impairing substance people think of while driving, but illegal recreational drugs, such as marijuana, are just as dangerous,” said Gary Herman, KDOT Behavioral Safety Manager. “Driving high and or drunk can still lead to a DUI, or worse.”

Those convicted of impaired driving will face stiff penalties, hefty financial consequences and time in jail. Take charge and don’t allow this to happen - designate a sober driver, use rideshare, take public transportation or stay home.

“The bottom line is if you are impaired, you should not be driving,” Herman said. “You place yourself, your occupants and anyone else you encounter along the road at risk. Every DUI victim is someone’s loved one.”

Kansas Leadership Center offering leadership courses to develop effective leaders in public service

Wichita, Kan. – The Kansas Leadership Center (KLC) is offering a new series of leadership courses to develop effective leaders across diverse sectors of public service. The nonprofit organization’s Leadership in Public Service program is for currently serving, new and emerging elected or appointed officials in state or local government across Kansas.

“At the Kansas Leadership Center, we believe that effective leadership is essential for creating positive change and building a better future for all. Through our Leadership in Public Service program, we are committed to supporting and developing a community of public service officials who are leading with courage, empathy, and vision,” said Kaye Monk-Morgan, KLC’s president and CEO.

The Leadership in Public Service program equips those who are currently serving as well as new and emerging public officials in Kansas with the skills, knowledge and confidence to tackle complex challenges and drive positive change in public affairs. KLC upholds a non-partisan stance in the program, emphasizing impartiality and neutrality in its approach.

“Our aspiration with the Leadership in Public Service program is to provide a space where elected officials can learn from each other, expand their network and learn practical leadership concepts that can apply to the real-life challenges they face back home. It’s rare for elected officials to get a chance to reflect on their role and have an opportunity to learn from others who are in the same position,” said Shaun Rojas, KLC’s senior director of civic engagement.

Leadership in Public Service includes three separate program tracks for incoming state legislators, current local elected officials and those who aspire to run for elected office or serve as an appointed official in state or local government. There is no cost to enroll, but an application is required for acceptance into a program.

The program’s Public Service Fellowship for Local Elected Officials starts August 29 at KLC in Wichita. The second program, Emerging Public Servants Leadership Training, has sessions in Kansas City, Wichita and virtually in October. The third program, Leadership and Legacy in the Statehouse, is offered to leaders elected to the state legislature for the first time.
